Who should attend?

French Immersion K-12 & FSL 6-12 teachers

About the session:

Do your students struggle to pronounce French? Take part in an interactive and dynamic workshop with a non-intimidating approach to phonetic correction that you will find inspiring and fun!

In this workshop, you will gain knowledge of how to identify and address the various challenges your students face in terms of French pronunciation. You will also learn a number of corrective strategies and will walk away with pedagogical materials that are easily adaptable to your style of teaching.

Whether you teach in Core French, French Immersion or Programme Cadre, you will leave this workshop inspired and well-equipped to help your students pronounce French more clearly.

This workshop is particularly designed for French Immersion K-12 and FSL 6-12 teachers.

Additional materials will available for sale at the session.

About the facilitator:

Myriam LeMay developed an innovative teaching method in corrective pronunciation of French as well as pedagogical materials for the French classroom. The aim of her work is to present French teachers with a variety of techniques that will enable them not only to correct their students' pronunciation, but also help these students understand how French sounds are produced so that they can attain self-correction. Myriam offers workshops to educators throughout Canada. She completed her M.A. in French Linguistics at UBC and has been teaching French for over 20 years.
