

TEACHING MATHEMATICS IN MULTI-GRADE CLASSROOMS

Teachers working in a multi-grade classroom often feel a great deal of stress as they try to simultaneously address two different sets of curriculum requirements.

These webinars (see * below for details) will show how using big ideas as a way of focusing curriculum outcomes along with using open tasks and parallel tasks can help teachers find ways to better meet the needs of both groups with less stress and more success.

Dr. Marian Small is the former Dean of Education at the University of New Brunswick. A long time professor of mathematics education, she speaks widely and consults with schools and districts to help teachers and coaches in the US, Canada, and Bhutan. She is the author of several books, including Good Questions for Differentiating Mathematics Instruction and Big Ideas for Grades 4-8.

To participate in an Elluminate webinar session, you will need a computer with an Internet connection, headphones (audio) along with a microphone: Connecting the computer to an LCD projector allows more than one person to join you in this session at your site.
