WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

Social Studies teachers

ABOUT THE SESSION:

The session will focus on how to enhance your social studies lessons and engage your entire class with SMART Notebook software. We will focus on lessons that infuse critical inquiry into effective classroom strategies.

The focus of this cohort group will be for teachers to develop skills in effectively engaging social studies learners through the use of electronic whiteboards.

Over these sessions we will address the following:

- Exploration of the pedagogy connecting critical thinking and technology
- Exploration of effective use of SMART technology for promoting critical inquiry
- Some SMART Notebook tips and tricks

Participants should have a copy of SMART Notebook 10 downloaded on a laptop for use at the sessions. Some experience with the program is needed given the online environment of the session.

ABOUT THE FACILITATOR:

Kory Sholdice is currently a Curriculum and Instruction Coordinator with Chinook's Edge school division. In his current position Kory works with teachers to help implement curriculum in effective and engaging ways for students. Kory has also been a part of the 1:1 laptop initiative while teaching grade 9 Language Arts and Social Studies at Penhold School. During this time he worked with many kinds of digital technologies including SMART boards and the SMART software.
