DAY ONE Tuesday, August 23, 2011

9:00 – 9:30 Introduction

9:30 – 12:00 Smart Response in Assessment for Learning with Gail Tschritter - VC Session

Learn how to use student response systems for formative evaluations. Learn how they can be used for games, review, homework checks, and general checking for understanding. Spend some time creating tools that you can take back to your classroom and share with others.

OR

9:30 – 12:00 Networking in the Classroom with John Ferguson - Face to Face Session

Learn how to set up and effectively use blogging, twitter and other social networking online platforms with your students!

12:00 – 12:45 Lunch

12:45-3:15 Setting up Classroom Online Learning Environments Edmodo and Moodle

with Pat Bohnet and Ken Hakstol - Face to Face Session

Want to get your students engaged using technology right from the start of the year? Use either or both of these tools to have your students learning in a style that suits them best. Set up a safe secure environment that allows you to store resources, deliver instruction and evaluate learning all in one place. Start the year off for your students in a new learning environment.

Moodle is an open source learning management system used by school divisions and universities around the world. Much like Edmodo, Moodle offers a more robust environment to support learning and instruction. If your school division has this capacity this session will get you started for the 2011-12 school.

OR

12:45-3:15 Presenting without Powerpoint - Prezi and Photostory 3

with Sandi Berg – Face to Face Session

Powerpoint is out! Learn how to use 2 online presentation tools, Prezi and Photostory3, to captivate your students with your presentations, and let your students be more engaged in creating their own!
